

Lord I Have Called - Forefeast of Transfiguration

On 6: If Thou shouldst mark iniquities, Lord, O Lord, who shall stand?

For with Thee is propitiation.

Tone 4

Come, let us go up with Je- sus

Who as- cend- eth the ho- ly moun- tain, and there let us hear the voice of the liv- ing God,

the all-unorigi- nate Fa- ther, which through the di- vine Spi- rit beareth witness by a cloud to His true Son-ship;

and, illuminated in mind,

let us gaze upon Light amid light.

On 5: For Thy name's sake have I waited patiently for Thee, O Lord; my soul hath waited patiently for Thy word; my soul hath hoped in the Lord.

Come, let us join chorus beforehand,

let us purify ourselves and faith-ful-ly prepare for di-vine en-try into the dwelling-place of the tran-scen-dent God and let us re-ceive the glo-ry which the fore-chosen apostles were vouch-safed to be-hold my-sti-c'ly on Mount Ta-bor.

On 4: From the morning watch until night; from the morning watch, let Israel hope in the Lord.

Come, and hav- ing trans- formed our- selves with a more exalted trans- for- ma- tion, let us pre- pare our- selves well for the mor- row,

to ascend the ho- ly moun- tain of God,

be- hold- ing the glo- ry of Christ

which shineth forth im- mu- ta- bly, more bright- ly than the sun;

and, il- lu- mined with the light of the Tri- ni- ty, let us glorify His con- de- scen- tion there- in.

Lord I Have Called - Holy Martyr Eusignios of Antioch

On 3: For with the Lord there is mercy, and with Him is plenteous redemption; and He shall deliver Israel out of all his iniquities.

In the same tone

Dyed in the blood of thy flesh, O glorious one, thou didst clothe thyself in the purple robe of divine grace, and didst place upon thy head the crown of life incorruptible.

and bearing the trophy of the Cross in thy right hand as a scepter,

O most wise mar- tyr,

thou reignest with Christ, e- ver re- joic - ing.

On 2: O praise the Lord, all ye nations; praise Him, all ye peoples.

Thou wast re- cog- nised, O Eu- sig- ni- os,

as an in- vinc- i- ble war- rior;

for, wield - ing the sword of the Cross, thou didst go forth to do battle with the ad-verse foe and didst fell him,

con-tend-ing splen-did-ly and receiving the crown of vic-to-ry

from the one Mas-ter and judge of the con-test,

Who reign-eth for-ev-er.

On 1: For He hath made His mercy to prevail over us, and the truth of the Lord remaineth forever.

By thine honoured sufferings,

O glorious athlete Eusignios, thou didst portray the honoured Passion;

and, as a victor, thou dwellest in the city on high,

rejoicing with all the martyrs and being deified by communion with the God-head.

Wherefore, we celebrate thine honoured and holy festival.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit:

Come, let us ascend the mountain of the Lord

Tone 5

to the house of our God,

and let us gaze upon the glory of His transfiguration, the glory of the Only- be- got- ten of the Fa - ther.

Through light let us re- cieve light;

and, ex- al- ted in the Spi - rit, let us hymn the consubstan tial Tri- ni- ty for- e - - ver.
